PRIDE...

Have you noticed that it sometimes takes some effort to get your students to see the importance of demonstrating PRIDE in and out of your classroom? That's because it takes up to 66 days for a new habit to become automatic. That means it can take that long for these traits to become ingrained in us as well. Let's keep encouraging each other and our students to demonstrate PRIDE everyday and keep building and modeling success!

What are some ways that you can encourage each other and our students to demonstrate PRIDE? Be prepared to share 1-2 ideas in your PLC groups this week.

Thank you for all you do...sometimes we need reminders that what we do matters and makes an impact. We don't always get the opportunity see the finished product since our students leave us and go on to high school, but here's a graphic that will hopefully serve as a reminder for you...
