

PRIDE PRESS

BROOKWOOD MIDDLE SCHOOL

PLC SCHEDULE

Monday PST 2nd, 5th, and 7th

Tuesday 2nd , 5th, and 7th - Norms and Mastery Connect

Wednesday - No PLCs in 606 - meet with your departments on Unit Planning

Thursday - 1st, 3rd, 4th, 6th - Norms, Unit Planning, Literacy for All

Friday - 3rd, 4th, 6th - Unit Plans and 15 day day challenges

PRIDE...

September is attendance awareness month. We will be having a contest that begins tomorrow for our 1st period classes. The class with the highest attendance percentage at the end of the month will receive rewards! You will be able to track the progress of your class in the horseshoe.

Don't have a first period class? Don't worry - we'll do other contests through different periods so you'll have a chance to participate. You can also encourage all of your students to attend as much as possible so they can demonstrate their PRIDE

Participation - Responsibility -
Integrity -
Dedication - Effort -

This Week

9/10

9/11 Pep Rally; Football

9/12 Principal Meeting - Strickland Out; NAPE meeting - Gossett out

9/13 Counselor Meeting - Lee and Moore Out - Community Meeting @ BHS

9/14 Student Dance

UPCOMING EVENTS

9/17 EWP - Leadership Group (7th and 8th graders) - Volleyball vs. Northside

9/18 - Volleyball vs. Sipsey Valley; Football @ Rock Quarry

9/19 - Volleyball @ DMS

9/20 Student of the Month due

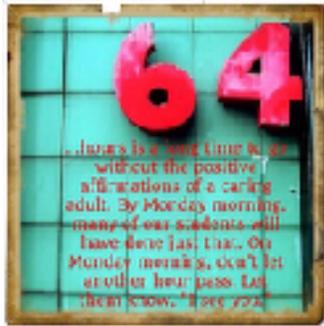

9/21 AP meeting Hooper and Gossett out

We've finished updating the duty schedule now that everyone is on board. Look for it in the attachment included with this newsletter.

“As the year starts and we begin to see the amazing things other teachers are doing, please remember we can't do all the things. We each do different things. That doesn't make any of us less than anyone else. There's no one way to be a great teacher. You are enough.

— JULIE REULBACH, TEACHER edutopia

Notes from Guidance - We are down to the make-up and accommodation testing. We are working to protect your instructional time and your planning time. We will send out this week's testing schedule tomorrow that will be utilized Wednesday and Thursday.

Thanks for all you are doing for our students! There's no doubt that each day you all deal with students who don't have their act together in one way or another. I saw a post the other day that hit home with me and I wanted to share - "Students are NOT adults—they need help with time management, study skills, prioritizing tasks, social skills, character development, etc. Instead of assuming immaturity or irresponsibility, ASSUME THEY NEED HELP." @teachergoals

Thanks everyone for making our Panther Palooza such a success! We had a great turnout for our spaghetti dinner and meet the teacher and learn about clubs and organizations available for our students. We were excited to use our PTLA grant money to make this event happen!

Our first pep rally is Tuesday. We'll get you the correct schedule tomorrow (we're still working on making it the least invasive as possible) and we ask that you talk with your students about what's expected of them at a pep rally. Include things like how to enter and exit the bleachers, how to cheer at appropriate times, where to sit (8th grade closest to outside wall, 7th grade in the middle, and 6th grade closest to the hall in the bleachers). Remind them that you will be in the bleachers monitoring their behavior and that they should Participate appropriately and they are Responsible for their Effort and Integrity.

